

Rug and carpet odor removal

There are many different ways to remove those unpleasant smells on your rug unfortunately if a dog has gone and urinated on your rug, he will likely go back to the same spot and do it again. There is something about wool that animals love and they seem to go back to the same spot again and again. I could show you many different photos where this happened nevertheless the smell sometimes can be quite strong and we have the proper odor remover to get that smell out.
